Speaker Biography: David J. Parrillo

David J. Parrillo, Global Research and Development Director, Packaging and Specialty Plastics for The Dow Chemical Company, has 20 years of experience in chemical engineering, application development and technology commercialization. Before he joined Dow in 2007, he held positions at General Electric and Air Products and Chemicals.

Parrillo acted as a Meeting Chair for the 2014 MRS Spring Meeting and was a featured speaker at both the 2010 and 2011 MRS Technology Innovation Forums. Along with his MRS experience, Parrillo’s executive leadership and career experience in R&D and commercialization of new technologies will provide a unique and important perspective. Parrillo, a current member of the MRS Board of Directors, was recently appointed to a one-year term as MRS Treasurer, beginning on January 1, 2016.
